GMO Policy

IAS requires notification prior to delivering any and all corn hybrids that do not have worldwide market approval. IAS will look at all available market destinations that will accept the unapproved traits at the time of delivery and decide what delivery location works best for your farming operation. IAS may not be accepting unapproved varieties at all of our IAS locations. IAS also reserves the right to deduct additional freight costs to facilitate delivery to an approved location. Again, PLEASE CALL BEFORE DELIVERY.

For additional information on what events are yet unapproved you can go to the National Corn Growers website at www.ncga.com
